SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] NASHVILLE, April 30 .- The attempted lynching of Eph Grizzard, colored, last night by citizens, which was prevented by the bravery of the officers in charge of the iail, culminated this afternoon in a successful carrying out of the original purpose, and the negro was hanged from the bridge over the Camberland river. Not content with hanging him, the vigilantes riddled the body with bullets as it dangled at the end

Realizing the futility of further effort to get at the prisoner this morning the mob dispersed about 4 o'clock, vowing to return again with reinforcements. In the fusilade which was exchanged between the barricaded officers and the mob last night it has developed that two of the latter were mortally wounded. They were Allen B. Guthrie and Charles Rear, two young men of this place, and both are now lying at the point of death in the City Hospital. Guthrie is shot through the left lung while Rear is suffering from a wound in the abdomen.

A Determined Attack on the Jall, After being repulsed last night the mob returned with reinforcements and made another assault upon the jail. Chief of Police Clack had turned in the riot alarm in the meantime, and had the entire police on hand to resist the attack, which gave every indication of being a bloody one. After repeated and unsuccessful efforts to effect an entrance, the mob commerced firing, which was promptly returned by the officers, with the above results.

The sight of blood seemed to have a de-moralizing effect upon the mob, and there as a cessation of further hostilities. Taking advantage of this opportunity to address the mob, Governor John P. Buchanan spoke to them and promise! that Grizzard have a speedy trial, and, if found guilty, would be punished to the full extent of the aw, which is death. The Governor assured the mon that a continuation of the attack a said result in bloodshed, and pleaded with them to allow the law to take its The mob finally agreed to disperse, provided the men arrested in the former at-tack were released. This was readily done, and the mob disbanded.

Not to Be Foiled a Second Time, The dawn, however, brought news of the organization of another and stronger mob, and the city has been in a high state of excitement. Throughout the day the streets in the vicinity of the jail have been jammed with people, and the arrival of the mob was expected at any hour. In anticipation of a recurrence of last night's scenes, Governor Buchanan issued the following proclama-

Jons P. Buchanan, Governor. At 12 o'clock to-day the crowds around the jail began to grow denser, and the threatened attack was feared at any mo-ment. Grizzard was attired in a dress, preparatory to being spirited away to a place of safety. Before this attempt at escape could be executed the long-expected assault occurred. The mob was much more orderly and better organized than on the previous night, and everything was conducted in a business-like manner.

The Keys Demanded and Secured A committee of three was appointed to sait upon Jailer James Willis and demand the keys. Seeing the utter uselessness of arther resistance the jailer vielded up the keys. Meanwhile, the men on the outside and crowded up to the jail, and at intervals during the wait of ten minutes, shouts arose to cheer on those who had gone within. housands of spectators crowded to suffoca on every avenue leading toward the jail, but they kept at a respectful distance from the mob of about 1,000 men which crowded up against the hung onto the iron bars in

Not a shot had been fired, and no sound save intermitten cheering had been made, but at the sight of the black lend, mab and speciators alike cheered until the sound must have been heard in all A wild rush was then made for the

Dropped From a Big Bridge.

The point where the drop was made is r little less than half way across the bridge, on the down-river side. A hemp rope three-quarters of an inch thick was quickly wissed into a hangman's knot and jerked about the negro's head. The other end was nto the negro's head, and Eph Grizzard was rown into space. A BLOODY OVERCOAT MARES A NEW LINK IN THE EVIDENCE AGAINST SCUDDER.

His Wife Falled in an Attempt to smuggle It Out of Jail-Gore in the Pocket Where a Weapon Had Probably Been

CHICAGO, April 30.-The State officials express the belief that they have discovered a new and sensational piece of evidence in connection with the charge against Dr. Henry Martyn Scudder of murdering his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Parker Dunton. Large blood spots, it is said, had been discovered in one of the overcoa pockets of the accused, a fact upon which the prosecution proposes to build the theory that it contained the weapon with which the murder was committed. To-day Mrs. Dr. Scudder made an unsuccessful attempt to take the coat from the county jail where the accused is confined. She told Jailer Morris that her little boy would soon be present to carry away her husband's soiled clothing. The boy presented himself in due time and was bearing away a cumbersome bundle. He succeeded in passing one turnkey, was about to walk a halt by the guardian who declared he would have to examine the bundle.

The mother, who had in the meantime been holding a conversation with her husband, appeared on the scene. She first threatened, then begged and pleaded that the boy be allowed to pass out, but without avail. She stuck to the bundle, however, till it was forcibly removed by two men. Then she became violent and again she threatened. The bundle was torn open, and in a quantity of underclothing was the heavy overcoat. Dr. Spray, who had been attending the alleged murderer on behalf of the State, discovered the blood spots some time ago, and therefore, the coat was ordered to be detained to be used in evidence at the

DANGER IN THE LATIN NATIONS. France, Italy and Switzerland Hunting

Down the Anarchists.

COPYRIGHT, 1892, BY N. T. ASSOCIATED PRESS. BERLIN, April 30.—The latest reports from all the industrial centers in Germany, show that there is every prospect of a peace-ful May Day. The authorities, however, have taken every possible precaution to nip in the bud any attempt to create disturbances. There will be no open display of force, but police will be centered at every important point, ready to act on the first ndication of disorder.

Demonstrations everywhere have been arranged to take a festive character. Enormons excursions to the country will be made from every large town. The fetes in Berlin will be prolonged to early Monday morning. They include concerts, chorus singing and fireworks.

The Socialists have engaged 60 beer houses, at which the landlords have undertaken to engage only Socialist waiters. The leading Socialists absolutely oppose any illegal action. They declare that if the Anarchists attempt to create disorder, the Socialists will be the first to deliver them to the police.

cialists' Intentions Are Peaceful. Liebknecht, in an interview, says that if there are any disturbances, they will be entirely due to agents provocaturers. The Socialists, he says, do not intend to gratify their enemies by acts of violence. The section of Independent Socialists have decided to hold a separate demonstration. They have composed a new version of the Mar-seillaise, which is applicable to May Day. It will be sung at all their meetings. Only at Dusseldorf, Hamburg and Lu-beck, will processions be allowed. At Hamburg the procession will include 15,000 men. The Socialists declare that the arrests

The Emperor's visit to Baron Stumm has given fresh umbrage to workingmen. He haranged Baron Stumm's workmen, and bestowed the highest eulogies upon the fac-tories and the regulations for the workmen. He declared they were models that all Germany ought to imitate. The speech was coldiv received, as Baron Stumm's arbitrary treatment of his employes and his pitiless discharge of any man suspected of socialistic views is notorious, and has gained for him the sobriquet of "King Stumm." The raiders seized a quantity of type and a number of manuscripts of articles which had been written for publication on May Day in a special issue of an organ of the Socialist

The Durham Miners' Strike in England Is Partly Declared Off. LONDON April 30 -The backbone of the disastrous strike in Durham has been broken by the action of the miners, and there is a prospect, though slight, that the trouble will soon be ended. The miners have voted in favor of all the men who are not connected with pits owned by members of the Mine Owners' Association resuming work. Twelve thousand men will thus be enabled to go back to work at once. The miners connected with the Mine Owners' Association's pits will continue the strike, but it is thought with the pits of other owners working, the association owners will effect some compromise with their men. THIS WILL BE A DAY OF GREAT ANXIETY The military is to be under arms through out the principal districts of the kingdom. The Minister of War has sent out circulars instructing military commanders not to hesitate to assume supreme command, if necessity, arises without waiting to refer to civil authorities for acquiescence. Detachments of civil guards will protect telegraph lines. Many societies objectionable to the authorities

In addition there have been seized procla mations urging workmen to pursue the at-tainment of their ideals through strikes and by other forcible means. The greatest pre-cautions have been taken in Barcelona. The French Anarchist, Blondel, who is believed to have been a companion of Rava-chol, was arrested there to-night. Advices received from Lisbon are to the effect that the troops are confined to the barracks and have received orders to be ready at the first warning to act. The news from Oporto is that the police are closely scrutinizing all the frontier trains, and that the passenger are being subjected to a strict watch. The officers have been giren instructions to ar rest any refugee Anarchists whom they may encounter. No disorders are expected to occur in the city, but the authorities have, nevertheless, adopted every precaution.

ANARCHISTS IN SWITZEBLAND Bomb Is Exploded for Revenge in a Pre-

fect's Mother's Dwelling.

BERNE, April 30.-Switzerland has been comparatively free from dynamite outrages, due, perhaps, not to any particular liking for the Government, but to the fact that many exiled Anarchists and Socialists find a refuge here. The authorities in the various industrial centers have been taking May Day, which will be observed as a holi-day by all the workingmen of the country. Many artisans and factory hands find em-ployment in Lausanne and, of course, the agitators have sought to inoculate them with the poison of snarchy and socialism. with the poison of anarchy and socialism. It was thought the workingmen would at tempt to make some sort of an illegal dem onstration, though it was scarcely believed there would be any rioting, and the prefect of police determined that every preparation should be made to suppress any violation of the law by the celebrants. By his action he incurred the enmity of the Anarchists, who, with their usual cowardly instincts, determined to inflict vicarious punishment upon him.
The victim selected was the prefect's mother. In some manner a dynamite bomb was placed in her house. The bomb ex-ploded, fortunately without harming any of the occupants of the house, but the building was very badly damaged. Three French and Italian Anarchists have been arrested

A FIGHT FOR MANY GOOD CITIZENS

Waged by Mr. Hitt and Aided by Quite a Number of the Democrats.

SOME SARCASM IN THE HOUSE DEBATE

WASHINGTON, April 30 .- Although Representative Hitt, of Illinois, was not successful in restoring the salary of the Minister to Venezuela, by clever tactics he succeeded to-day in restoring to Denmark her separate mission. He did this by allow-ing the Democrats from the Northwest, where the Scandinavians constitute a large part of the population, to do most of the talking. The amendment was proposed by Republican, Mr. Post, of Illinois, and was warmly advocated by him, but its impressive strength came from the Demoerats. Mr. Butler, of Iowa, who had prepared a similar amendment, led the fight, and so many other Democrats followed his lead that Mr. Blount thought it politic to yield gracefully, and surrendered without a voting struggle.

Then the New Orleans-Italy imbroglio presented itself through the diplomatic emergency appropriation. The President was subjected to much adverse criticism for his action in paying the Italian indemnity out of the emergency fund, but as the emer-gency fund is in the nature of a secret service appropriation, it cannot be definitely stated how it is expended. An amendment made by Mr. Chipman, of Michigan, pro-hibiting the use of this money in settlement of claims of foreign countries, was passed

An Excellent Day for the Races

This was an ideal day for the races. There were not 100 members present when the Speaker called the House to order at oon. The House, by unanimous consent, at once went into committee of the whole Mr. Oates, of Alabama, in the chair, on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill—the pending amendment being that offered by Mr. Hitt, of Illinois, restoring to $8,500 the salary of the Minister to Veneznela, which the bill proposed to reduce to $5,000. The bill was lost—19 to 149.

Mr. Post, of Illinois, offered an amend-

The United States had invited Denmark. The United States had invited Denmark to exhibit at the World's Fair, and Denmark had responded to that invitation in a liberal and hearty spirit. In proportion to its population Denmark had made a larger appropriation than any other country in the world. Mr. Blount asked unanimous consent that debate on the amendment be considered

Not the Way to Basten Matters. Finally Mr. Blount withdrew his motion, stating that his only object in making it was to facilitate action on the bill. Mr. Cummings, being accorded the floor, said he would vote for the amendment. He wanted to rebuke this House for a spirit of parsimony which was exhibited in the enleavor to consolidate the Danish and Swedish missions. In the Fifty-first Congress there were just as many members Scandi-navian born as there were members born in Ireland and Germany. This bill, so far as it concerned these nations, was an insult to 2,000,000 of our Scandinavian citizens. The ommittee on Foreign Affairs had done injustice not only to the peo-ple of Denmark, whose nation was monarchical, but to our sister republics of South America. Again he wanted to rebuke this parsimony. It meant really, virtually, legislation in favor of the rich and against the poor (applause on the Republican side), for by reducing the salaries of ministers and consuls the ofthe salaries of ministers and consuls the of-fices were placed in the hands of the pluto-crats and taken from the hands of the edu-cated, honest laboring or professional man. He appealed to the House not to place this Government in a position where it would be regarded by all countries as the one national sional Committee-4 Block of Stock Was Laid Aside for Russell Harriso The Son of the President Said He Didn's Like It.

WASHINGTON, April 30.-The question of Yellowstone Park leases was again investigated by the House Public Lands Committee this morning, E. C. Waters, of Mon tanta, for four years manager of the Yellow stone Park Association, testifying. A letter was produced and read to the committee by him, which was addressed to F. F. Oakes, The party to whom the $5,000 worth of Yellowstone Park Association stock is togo, when paid for in dividends, is R. C. Kerens, of St. Louis. Will you please have Mr. Gibson, or the proper person, notify him of the situation, namely, that the amount is held by order of the directors? My friend will probably explain to him as fully as he desires.

A member of the committee asked witness to whom the term "my friend" referred, and witness replied that it was his lawyer. Witness was again asked to tell why the $5,000 of stock was so promised and for what purpose. In answer Mr. Waters said he had come to Washington to secure certain leases from the then Secre-tary of the Interior, Mr. Vilas, but had accomplished nothing, and upon seeing that he could not get anything done he said to Oakes that when another administration came in he could get the matter through. He acknowledged an acquaintance with Russell Harrison, and said that at the time he thought he might intercede in the matter and help him to get the things fixed up.

Upon close questioning by a member of Upon close questioning by a member of the committee, witness said that $5,000 of stock was intended for Russell Harrison, but that neither he (Harrison) nor Kerens knew anything about it. Mr. Harrison-however, was to give his aid purely for the public good, and did not know the stock was set aside for him until last spring, when he had been told so.

Mr. Waters further said that he had never promised Russell Harrison the stock for his influence, and when he was told of it, Mr. Harrison appeared very much em-barrassed, and said he would not have the matter done for anything.

Mr. Harrison told him, said Waters, that he would see Secretary Noble and lay the matter before him, but whether that was ever done he did not know, as Mr. Gibson had come on to Washington to attend to the matter, and stayed until it was con-cluded. The committee will continue the investigation Monday.

OPTION PEOPLE HARD AT WORK They Think They Can Essily Knock Out

the Hatch Bill. WASHINGTON, April 30 .- [Special ]-The opponents of the Hatch anti-option bill are rganizing with the same determination that characterized the anti-silver men in their fight against the Bland bill. Representative Raynor, of Maryland, who is regarded as one of the best lawyers in the House, says he has examined the Hatch bill thoroughly, and is propared to show that it is unconstitutional. Its passage means the closing of all the stock exchanges in the country and the ruination of large business interests.

In spite of the fact that the bill comes from the Committee on Agriculture with a unsuimous report, there is a large element in the House opposed to it, and a stubborn fight may be expected when the bill is called up. It is the intention of Mr. Hatch to try and call the bill up early next week, but the outlook for it is not promising, in view of the fact that several general appropriation bills are now ready for considera-tion and may be called up any day.

The Victim Was Fither a Thief or a Great

Mistake Was Made.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) WAYNESBURG, April 30.-The special erm of court set for the trial of W. S. Pipes for the killing of Peter Huffman, begins on Monday. Owing to the standing and prominence of both parties, it will excite unusual interest. On the night of August 22, between 11 and 12, Mr. Pipes, who had retired, heard a disturbance among his chickens, and, going to the window, saw a light in his stable. He started for the stable. As he approached by an alley he saw a man exsmining his harness by the light of a match. On being discovered, the man dropped it, sprang out and dealt Mr. Pipes a blow. A scuffle followed, in which Mr. Pipes received several scratches and bruises.

The man then ran out of the alley.

Mr. Pipes fired his revolver to frighten him, and called upon him to halt. He ran on, and Mr. Pipes followed. Upon approaching a street light the man made a motion as if to draw a revolver from his back pocket. Pipes believing his life in danger, fired a second shot. The man ran a few steps, then fell. Pipes, seeing he had shot the fugitive, ran to him, and taking him in his arms, asked who he was, but received no answer. He immediately aroused the neighbors, telling them he thought he had killed a man. He also ran for a doctor, and also to the Sher-iff's residence. Upon the arrival of the doctor the man was pronounced dead and identified as Peter Huffman, a respected young farmhand of Franklin township.
Young Huffman had borne a good reputation and his friends asserted that a mistake was made. Mr. Pipes is a jeweler in this place, where he has been in business 14 years. He is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Mr. Pipes is a brother of Captain J. M. Pipes, doorkeeper of the United States Senate and Commander of the Department of the Potomac, Grand Army of the Republic.

A startling development happened at the town the harness which had been stolen from Mr. Pipes were recognized on a horse. It was found in the possession of George Orndoff, son-in-law of the man with whom Huffman had been employed as a farm hand. The harness was recovered and destified by identified by the maker and also by Mr.
Pipea Mr. Orndoff had gotten the harness from Huffman a few weeks before trading a sleigh for them. Huffman had said he got the harness from Scott, but the latter claims he never had them in his possession.

The Chicora Postoffice Robbed. CHICORA, April 30.-The postoffice at this place was robbed last night of about $500 in stamps and money. The burglars gained an entrance to the office by prying the rear door with a chisel far enough for them to reach in and pull a beavy bar which held it. When inside they turned their attention to the safe, in which were all the funds and stamps of the office. The door was blown off the safe and half way across the office, the glass boxes shattered and one window broken. It required but a moment to secure the contents, which, as near as can be ascertained, were about $300 in cards, 8,000 2-cent stamps and stamps of other de
